aways of the search by him in making his patrons comfortable.

In order to insure a quiet, unannoyed promenade, he adopts, for the present, the following course: Patrons visiting the Garden, when Illuminated, will procure a check at the ticket office, near the gate, for which 12½ cents is required, and which check is redeemable in confectionaries for the same amount.

An efficient police have been engaged to preserve order on gala nights.

Thankful for patronage thus far, he hopes to deserve a continuance of the same. His expenses in carrying out the above are, it is obvious, very large, but he relies upon the liberality of the citizens to be able to proceed.

GEORGETOWN AND ITS AFFAIRS.

Georgerown, June 3-12 m. At Forrest Hall last night there was a crowded house, and the performance of the Opera troupe gave universal satisfaction.

Quick & Co.'s menageric appeared in our town to-day. They have pitched their tents on Fenwick's hill, near the Monastery, where they intend exhibiting this afternoon; and judging from the excitement produced by their passage through town, they will be liberally patronized.

The Mount Vernon Guards paid us a short visit yesterday; their soldier like appearance elicited the admiration of all who saw them.

I would suggest, to those who are superin tending the improvements at the Methodist Protestant Church, the propriety of keeping pace with the spirit of the age, by removing those huge wood columns that support the galleries, and substitute cast iron ones, and not spoil the beauty of what they have done by suffering them to remain.

I conversed on yesterday with a gentleman who has just returned from a tour through a part of Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia, who says that never, in his recollection, was the prospect for an abundant harvest more promising.

There was a sale yesterday of 300 bbls. of flour at $41 per bbl., and 1700 bushels prime wheat at 92 cents.

Amherst College, Dec. 25, 1848.

Mr. Robert Scars—Dear Sir: I have looked over the entire series of your valuable publications with much interest and profit; and am quite surprised at the amount of literary labor you have performed, and the research it must have cost you to obtain so many fine illustrations, while you have an active superintendence of an extensive business. I am also gratified at the decidedly moral and religious influence which your books will earer, and cannot but hope that they will do much to counteract the effects of that light and immoral literature which deluges the land, and, like the frogs of Egypt, comes up even to the kneading troughs of our kitchens. May you live long to follow your plans.

Respectfully and sincerely, your obliged servant, EDW ARD HITCHCOCK.

THOS. H. O'BRIEN; Ireland, and Scotland. THOS. H. O'BRIEN, mar 24— 37 Burling Slip, 2 doors from South st. LEVERETT'S LATIN LEXICON, ENLARGED AND IMPROVED, compiled chiefly from the Magnum Totius Latinitatis Lexicon at Facciolati and Forcellini, and the German works of Scheller and Lune memann, embracing, also, the classical distinctions of words, and the Etymological Index from Freund's Lexicon.

The present edition of this standard and favorite Latin Lexicon has been much improved by the transfer to trace columns of the classical distinctions of Latin words, as given in the Lexicon of Dr. Wm. Freund, of Germany, and translated by Riddle. The classical degree of each word is indicated by a figure; for example, a word without a figure is fully classical and Ciceronian; with the figures 1, 2, and 3, words are classical only in the first, second, &c., degrees; and this distinction the student perceives at a glance. The Etymological Index, also from Freund's Lexicon, has been incorporated into the present edition of Leverett, and will be found a valuable acquisition. While transferring these notes and marks, catalogues were carefully kept of the words found in each Lexicon, which were not found in the other. On comparing these catalogues, it was found that the value and importance of the additional words found in Leverett, so far as a knowledge of the Latin language is concerned, very far exceeds that of those found in Riddle's Freund. The extensive use of Leverett's Lexicon in all parts of the country, and the preference which has been universally given to it over all similar works, render its recommendation superfluous; but attention to this new edition is respectfully invited, as being still more worthy than its predecessors of the distinguished favor which the work has hitherto received.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE

BRITISH QUARTERLY REVIEWS. OWING to the later revolutions and counter-revolutions among the nations of Europe, which have followed each other in such q ick succession, and of which "the end is not get," the cading periodicals of Great Britain and is not get, the canning periodicians of oreal farmation have become invested with a degree of interest hitherto unknown. They occupy a middle ground between the hasty, disjected, and necessarily imperfect records of the newspaper, and the elaborate and ponderous treaties to be furnished by the historian at a future day. Whoever be furnished by the historian at a future day. Whoever reads these periodicals obtains a correct and connected ac-count of all the important political events of the Old World, as they occur, and learns the various conclusions drawn from them by the leading spirits of the age. The American publishers therefore deem it proper to call re-newed attention to the works 'they publish, and the very low prices at which they are offered to subscribers. The following is their list, viz:

In these periodicals are contained the views, moderately In these periodicals are contained the views, moderately though clearly and firmly expressed, of the three greatest parties in England—Tory, Whig, and Radical; "Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory, the "Edinburgh Review" Whig, and the "Westminster Review" Liberal. The "North British Review" owes its establishment to the last great ecclesiastical movement in Scotland, and is not ultra in its views on any one of the grand departments of human knowledge. It was originally edited by his son-in-law, Dr. Hanna, associated with Sir David Erewster. Its literary character is of the very highest order. The "Westminster," though reprinted under that title only, is published in England under the title of the "Foreign Quarterly and Westminster," it being in fact a union of the two lieviews formerly published and reprinted under separate titles. It has, therefore, the advantage, by this combination, of uniting in one work the best features of both, as heretofore issued. of both, as heretofore issued. The above Periodicals are reprinted in New York, immediately on their arrival by the British steamers, in a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals—Blackwood's Magazine being an exact fac simile of the Edinburgh edition.
